Adopting the Capital Budget for the 2021 Fiscal Year

The proposed property tax levy for 2021 of $102,873,000 represents a 1.00% increase over the tax levy for the 2020 Capital Budget. The proposed levy yields a rate of $1.58 per $1,000 of equalized property value for member communities, a decrease of 4.0% from the 2020 tax rate of $1.65 per $1,000 of equalized property value.

Six-year Long-range Financing Plan Summary

The 2021 Proposed Capital Budget Long-range Financing Plan achieves the District's financing objectives:

- Cash financing of at least 25%. From 2021 through 2026, an average of 25% of capital project expenditures are projected to be cash financed with the remaining 75% financed from debt.
- Outstanding debt no more than 2.5% of equalized value. In the Long-range Financing Plan, outstanding general obligation debt at year end is projected to decrease from $788.1 million at the end of 2020 to $776.5 million at the end of 2021, estimated to be 1.11% of the District's equalized property value. After 2021, outstanding general obligation debt is projected to increase to $927.4 million by the end of 2026, estimated to be 1.20% of the District's equalized property value.

In accordance with Commission Policy 1-15.02, Capital Budget, the Commission will be asked to approve the following three items:

1. Total Project Cost – Commission action on the total project cost approves the current estimate for the total project cost for each project active in 2020 and 2021. Inflation estimates, allowance accounts, capital programs, risk management program, financial planning, and debt service capital program support expenditures are not included, as they are ongoing capital expenditures without a discrete end date. The completion of the work in the total project cost estimate may span more than one year.
2. The 2021 Annual Capital Budget – Commission action on the Capital Budget sets the property tax levy and other sources of funds for the current year's capital expenditures.
